

Frits Landesbergen, a household name in music for the past 35 years

Frits Landesbergen (1961)

After his studies at the Conservatory in the early eighties, which he concluded 'cum laude', an impressive career in music took flight, both nationally and internationally. Frits Landesbergen now belongs to the world's best vibraphone players. His musical talents were spotted by a number of renowned Dutch artists, including Pim Jacobs, Louis van Dijk, Thijs van Leer, jazz singer Joke Bruijs, and many, many others. On top of that, he works as a percussionist and a brilliant arranger on a regular basis. Improvisation is a talent given to few; Frits Landesbergen possesses this talent.

Abroad

In the past 30 years, Frits Landesbergen travelled the world performing at international festivals as well as great events. He has played alongside Toots Thielemans, Georgie Fame, Scott Hamilton, jazz singer

Madeline Bell and the American pianist Monty Alexander.

The year of 2018

The year of 2018 will be a special year. Frits Landesbergen will be touring with his own combo that includes the internationally renowned Italian pianist Francesca Tandoi and has already earned a reputation in Japan, Switzerland, Germany and Italy, where they are in great demand.

Schedule

A busy schedule for 2018 notwithstanding, Frits Landesbergen is open to come and perform at special or extraordinary events, in the country as well as abroad. Making a unique musical project for your event or festival is well within the bounds of possibility.
